Alfa Laval wins SEK 70 million energy efficiency order

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won an order to supply waste heat recovery systems to a power plant in Bangladesh. The order has a value of approximately SEK 70 million. It is booked in the Boiler & Gas Systems unit of the Marine Division, with deliveries scheduled for 2018.

The order comprises Alfa Laval exhaust gas heat recovery boilers to be installed in a greenfield power plant where they will recover waste heat to be used in the electricity generation process.

“I am very pleased to announce this order for our energy-efficient Aalborg waste heat recovery systems,” says Peter Leifland, President of the Marine Division. “Alfa Laval has a wide range of energy-efficient products which contribute to huge energy savings in many different industries.”

Did you know that... Bangladesh's total electricity generation capacity is about 10 gigawatts (GW)? Every year Alfa Laval's technology contributes to energy savings of about 50 GW, matching the combined energy demand needed for about 13 million homes during a year corresponding to all households in the Nordic region.

About Alfa Laval

Alfa Laval is a leading global provider of specialized products and engineering solutions based on its key technologies of heat transfer, separation and fluid handling.

The company's equipment, systems and services are dedicated to assisting customers in optimizing the performance of their processes. The solutions help them to heat, cool, separate and transport products in industries that produce food and beverages, chemicals and petrochemicals, pharmaceuticals, starch, sugar and ethanol.
